The Challenges

Many individuals, regardless of their age may need care and support at one point of time. Challenges you confront may be age-related, trauma, accident related or chronic diseases with/without a bed-ridden condition. In these conditions, living a normal life without care and support is highly challenging. Everest Home Health Services provides skilled and non-skilled care to help individuals live better lives, recover faster and enjoy more independence.

We serve the following categories of people with care and compassion.

- ⊕ Senior citizens who are suffering from age-related disorders
- ⊕ Elderly members of the family who are bed-ridden and need support to attend to their daily chores
- ⊕ Children and adults who are averse to the hospital environment and are desperate to stay at home in the post trauma and accident situations
- ⊕ Families that need somebody to provide homely care to the ailing members
